How is the SIM-only Mobile Plans Provider of the Year Award determined?

The SIM-only Mobile Plans Provider of the Year Award assesses the cumulative performance of a provider's offering across a range of data inclusions over a six-month period; considering a providers' best performing SIM-only postpaid plan within each data allowance profile. The below outlines the weighted average consideration across each prepaid data allowance profile.

For each plan, Canstar Blue considers the value proposition compared to the market, by providing an estimated monthly cost and feature score based on Customer Service and Support, Inclusions, and Billing and Payments. Canstar Blue considers plan features most relevant to consumers in the calculation of Value Rank. However, not every feature is included in the Value Rank, nor every feature that is relevant to you.

The above is a brief overview of the elements considered in Canstar Blue's SIM-only Mobile Plan Provider of the Year Award. For further detail on how individual plans are assessed, please refer to the Mobile Value Rank Methodology document.

Does Canstar rate all products in the market?
